Town council support for campaign group's call for Harbour Road hotel

SEATON Town Council is right behind local campaigners and "strongly objects" to plans for retirement flats being built on the Harbour Road regeneration site.

The town council's planning committee has resolved to recommend to East Devon District Council (EDDC) that it should refuse the application because a retirement flat complex would mean: loss of employment opportunities; loss of tourism opportunities; loss of opportunities to boost the local economy and would also prevent the town's regeneration projects achieving their full potential.

In its formal response to EDDC's planning department, the town council says: "The vision is for longer-term growth of tourism, especially green tourism, focussing on the key environment assets of Axe Wetlands, Jurassic Coast, surrounding exceptional coastline – all of which are seen as being integral to the future success of the town."

"The provision of over 50s accommodation as an alternative to visitor accommodation does not meet this stated aim for the town and would prevent the achievement of the fundamental objective of Seaton achieving longer-term growth of tourism."

A decision will be made by EDDC Development Management Committee on a date to be announced. The story is well-known by now.

Planning permission for a 100-bedroom hotel on the site had been given, but the plans were scrapped. Instead it was announced that McCarthy & Stone was preparing a planning application for more than 40 retirement flats on the site.

This led to local residents forming campaign group Positive Development For Everyone In Seaton, which amassed 900-plus signatures for a petition urging

by Anders Larsson
anders@tindlenews.co.uk

EDDC to earmark the Harbour Road regeneration site for hotel/holiday accommodation.

Prior to the town council planning committee meeting, Positive Development for Everyone in Seaton issued a statement saying: "A small hotel would provide anywhere from 20 to 50 new jobs directly, and many more as the town benefits from the growing number of visitors."

"This site was specifically designated for commercial development in order to offer quality tourist accommodation close to the seafront, to enhance the town's role as a visitor destination and make Seaton the region's premier resort for green tourism."

"The income from visitors would benefit all the town's businesses and help build the tourism business throughout East Devon, particularly after the completion of The Seaton Jurassic Centre and The Stop Line Way."

"The evidence we have gathered suggests that the site has not been marketed to any satisfactory degree to attract hotel developers, and has certainly not been given the exposure that other such prominent sites benefit from. Seaton never expected to have a new town centre hotel overnight: if this proposed development is approved there may never be one."

Anyone wishing to comment on the planning application can do so by e-mailing planningeast@eastdevon.gov.uk quoting planning application number 14/2372/MFUL or by writing to East Planning Department, EDDC, Council Offices, Knowle, Sidmouth, Devon, EX10 8HL quoting the same planning application number.

To celebrate the village's success as the South West in Bloom Gold Cup winner chairwoman Ursula Makepeace decided to launch a calendar for 2015.

"I have used all my own photos of the various displays and a company in Seaton has produced the calendar, which is on sale throughout the village," said Mrs Makepeace, pictured above right with Christine Turner.

Ursula continued: "We initially printed 100 and only have 17 left which will be on sale at the table top sale in the Mariners Hall on Saturday costing £5 each."

Money raised will go towards funding the flowers in the village next year.

Axe Valley Runners in the Bicton Blister

THE Bicton Blister is a well-established 10-mile multi-terrain race on Woodbury Common starting and finishing at Bicton College.

The start and finish are short road sections, with the remainder of the race being on stony and muddy paths across the Common. The course was changed slightly this year and with the fantastic sunny weather many athletes produced PBs. First home of the 442 competitors was Ceri Rees of Wild Running in 59:27.

Matt Clist was the first Axe Valley Runner home, 4th in 1:02:09, with James Green not far adrift 8th in 1:04:25. Rupert Pady was 47th, 1:13:39; Ian Apps 52nd, 1:13:58; Josh Hopson 70th, 1:17:39.

Congratulations to Eleanor Wood who was first lady over 55, 133rd overall in 1:23:15.

Quotes of the week...

“ The town council and many residents will be delighted that Honiton's central location and vibrant economy has been recognised by the district council, which will make a decision before the year's end. This proposal seems much more sensible than the original suggestion of a big headquarters near Exeter.”

Mayor of Honiton, Councillor Peter Halse, on the possibility of East Devon District Council scrapping its plans to move to Sky-park in Exeter in favour of a site in Honiton

“ It is a total and utter unparalleled shambles. It is indefensible – an appalling waste of public funds and an exercise in supreme arrogance. I am not sure that anyone in East Devon will have been familiar with a more atrociously managed project than EDDC's office relocation.”

Independent district and county councillor Claire Wright on East Devon District Council's relocation process after news the authority may move to Honiton, not Exeter.

“ I don't know how we managed it. We have served the community for 16 years, but this time the community pitched in and served us. It was an amazing community effort.”

Flamingo Pool manager Steve Buxton after winning £50,000 towards an aqua gym in the Big Lottery Fund's People's Millions competition.

Pool wins bid for aqua gym grant

FLAMINGO Pool supporters in Axminster were celebrating this week after winning £50,000 towards an aqua gym.

After weeks of campaigning, followed by a public vote on Tuesday, November 25th, a phone call the following morning confirmed that the Axminster complex had secured the bumper cheque by defeating another bid to fund a sensory garden in a home for dementia sufferers near Truro.

An aqua gym is a gym in water, with the difference that it reduces the burden on stress-bearing joints and muscles compared to land-based gym equipment.

Flamingo had reached the final stage after submitting a bid including a business plan, then presenting these to officials from People's Millions, part of The Big Lottery Fund.

Manager Steve Buxton was told at 9.30am on Wednesday of last week, but was sworn to secrecy as lottery bosses had a deal with sponsor ITV to announce winners on air during the early evening regional news slot.

Commenting on filming in the afternoon and keeping the triumph a secret, he said: "I don't know how we managed it."

But he was delighted to have secured the money, adding: "We have served the community for 16 years, but this time the community pitched in and served us. It was an amazing community effort."

Mr Buxton praised his own team, volunteers who had promoted the bid and urged people to vote, plus all those who voted for Flamingo Pool.

Mr Buxton doesn't know by how big a margin Flamingo Pool won the vote because the figures won't be released for about a month.

From the editor's chair Is the beds battle won?

SOME good news for Axminster this week – hopefully.

I say 'hopefully' because the action group fighting the closure of all in-patient beds at Axminster Hospital learned over the weekend that the decision to temporarily shut down the wards for the winter, for fear that nurses would be working on their own without supervision, had been reversed after the threat of a legal challenge.

A statement from the North Devon Healthcare Trust (NDHT) was not quite so clear. As you know, you can't spit without having a consultation period in any public body today and the NDHT have said their decision to temporarily close the beds would now be the subject of a four-week consultation.

The question that begs to be asked is why didn't they have a consultation in the first place.

But it's a partial U-turn and those in the know believe it is just a procedural matter and the temporary closure will be withdrawn.

This has nothing to do with the decision by the NEW Devon Clinical Commissioning Group's proposal to permanently transfer the Axminster beds to Seaton. There is still the big battle to fight – but it's a step in the right direction. As I say – hopefully!

♦ I WASN'T that impressed when I saw the West End version of 'Jesus Christ Superstar' way back when. Rock opera? Not my kind of show.

But those of you who read my review of last week's show by the newly-named Axminster Musical Theatre will have noticed that I have changed my mind somewhat.

The change of name from Axminster Operatic Society was a brave one. Miss Sheppard, one time president of the Operatic Society and Axminster's matriarchal figure for so long, would not have liked it. The rest of us loved it – unbelievable talent.

Planning permission for a 100-bedroom hotel on the site had been given, but the plans were scrapped.

Council's Honiton move is back on EAST Devon District Council is set to scrap its proposed relocation to SkyPark and instead switch to Honiton, offering a welcome boost to the town's economy and an "early Christmas present" for business leaders.

A final decision will not be made until mid-December, but officers are now recommending that councillors reverse the unpopular SkyPark plan and split smaller headquarters between sites in Honiton and Exmouth.

A surprise statement announcing the change of plan, which was put down to "changing market conditions", was issued by EDDC last week.

It explains that a major supermarket did make a bid to develop the council-owned Heathpark site in Honiton, but it later reduced the offer. The money would have been used to fund the relocation to Skypark, but EDDC now says the supermarket deal is "no longer attractive".

Under the proposals, existing tenants of the business centre, who had been preparing for relocation, will be able to remain in the town.

SIDMOUTH

Anchor's best pint in town

A SIDMOUTH pub has been rewarded for serving up some of the finest pints in the country.

The Anchor Inn, on Old Fore Street, topped thousands of competitors nationwide to be named the Best Cask Ale pub by Star Pubs & Bars last week.

Expert judges said the Anchor's high-quality ale was "spot on" in every category, with members of the panel impressed by taste, temperature and smell.

Licensees Trevor and Denise Fudge, along with their son Matt, picked up the coveted prize at a gala awards night in London on Thursday, November 27th.

The award is a double achievement for the family, who are celebrating a decade at The Anchor this month.

OTTERY ST MARY

Councillor could face legal action

FURTHER legal action could be taken against disgraced former councillor Graham Brown, after East Devon District Council threw out his application to cut the agricultural 'tie' on his Ottery St Mary farm house.

The authority rejected Mr Brown's request for a 'certificate of lawfulness' that would have allowed him to continue living at Ware Farm, on Chineway Hill, despite the original planning conditions restricting occupation to agricultural workers.

Former councillor Brown, who was exposed in a national newspaper sting last year claiming he could influence planning decisions in his capacity as a consultant, was seeking to exploit a loophole in the system to remove the tie.

He claimed that he had not been working mainly as a farmer for more than 10 years, and that the tie should no longer be enforced.

The application was criticised by Ottery councillors earlier this year, who wrote to EDDC spelling out their concerns with the evidence.

District council set to scrap Skypark plans

EAST Devon District Council looks set to abandon plans to relocate to SkyPark, near Exeter, and instead go back to the initial option of Honiton.

No decision has been made, but officers will recommend EDDC's Cabinet and full council to reverse the SkyPark plan and instead focus on a move to Honiton.

The proposed U-turn was sparked by a supermarket chain reducing its offer for EDDC land at Heathpark, Honiton.

An EDDC spokesperson said: "Marketing of Heathpark began last year and the highest value commercial interest came from a supermarket operator.

"The offer price negotiated at that time was attractive as part of the funding package to relocate to SkyPark, but the supermarket reduced its offer in line with a new business sector model. The reduced offer makes a sale of the site no longer attractive."

EDDC's Cabinet will meet tomorrow (December 3rd) before the new proposals are put to full council on December 17th, and an EDDC statement said: "Whilst Skypark has been the leading contender as the relocation site, the council was very clear that no decision was going to be made on the final location until all the facts and figures were known with other key pieces in what is a complex jigsaw slotting in to place.

"Instead, recommendations to Cabinet are to retain the council-owned Heathpark site in Honiton and potentially combine East Devon Business Centre with a new headquarters. This will allow existing tenants of the business centre to remain."

EDDC wants to leave Knowle because it is deemed outdated and essential repairs alone would cost in excess of £1.5 million. But the Skypark proposal was heavily criticised in many quarters, one reason being its location on the edge of the district with poor or no public transport.

The Mayor of Honiton, Councillor Peter Halse, welcomed the proposed switch to Honiton and said reducing the size of council premises was a "twenty-first century" move.

He added: "We do not need monster offices with people behind desks. Thankfully the council has realised that the ideas it was working on are hopelessly out of date."

Although opposed to Skypark in the first place, East Devon Alliance chairman Paul Arnott showed no enthusiasm about news, saying: "EDDC has spent a king's ransom on the pipedream of moving to Skypark, and been stunningly rude to anyone who tried to point out the folly of moving our district's HQ to the outskirts of Exeter. Our council tax is not safe in these people's hands."

About marketing of Knowle and Manstone depot, an EDDC spokesperson said: "A mix of proposals were received, which contained variations on residential, retirement and/or care and extra care communities whilst retaining the public park."

"All proposals were based on the removal of existing buildings at Knowle (whilst keeping or re-provisioning the bat roost).

"A range of matters still need to be explored before selecting a preferred bidder but, once selected, it will be for the developer to enter into discussions with the planning authority to explore proposals."

Poppy Appeal collection breaks record

THIS year's Poppy Appeal has set a new record in Seaton, taking about £3,000 more than last year's collection.

Organisers were overwhelmed by the support and generosity displayed.

More than £13,500 was raised, and Seaton Poppy Appeal organiser Alison King praised everyone who contributed and said: "Once again Seaton has done the Royal British Legion proud.

"Special thanks must go to Tesco and Co-op, who supported us by allowing collectors on site.

"Many thanks also to all the shops and local businesses who had Poppy boxes on their counters for us.

"Huge thanks to all the volunteers who gave up their time and stood with their collecting tins and made this a bumper year.

"Money raised through the Poppy Appeal goes directly to the Royal British Legion's welfare work, providing care to anyone who is currently serving in the British Armed Forces, or who has previously served, and their families. The previous record was £10,451, set last year.

"Every year for the last five years, the amount we have raised has gone up and up.

"It's a huge amount this year, probably because of the centenary of the First World War."

Rotary Christmas post

THE Rotary Club of Seaton's annual Christmas post is once again operating in the local area.

There are post boxes situated in Tesco, the two Co-ops, Beer News, Colyton Chemist and Londs.

The local Scout groups will carry out delivery at 30p per card, and the proceeds are split between The Scouts and Rotary Charities. Collection will be made on Saturday, December 13th.

Church will reopen in time for Christmas

ST MICHAEL'S Church will be back open 'for business' in time for the Christmas festivities.

That was the pledge of the Reverend Jeremy Trew as he confirmed that the extensive repair work, which has seen the church closed for almost three months, had now been completed.

"The work is coming to an end and is more or less completed so we are hoping to open again early in December or possibly by the end of the week," said Reverend Trew.

"Initially the work was done to repair old and rotting timbers and also create a bigger and more flexible space in the church for community use.

"But the workmen found dry rot everywhere so the work ended up costing the church a lot more than we thought but we are glad we got it done now.

"The building should be good for serving the community for many more years to come."

The extensive dry rot was revealed when pews were removed to create the extra space in the church to hold events like coffee mornings and exhibitions. Despite the increased costs involved it was a problem that could not be ignored to ensure the safety and stability of the building which was consecrated in 1878.

"The work has all been self-financed with money saved up over the years and ear-marked for repair works," added Reverend Trew.

The Reverend Trew has continued to hold services in the Chancel, which is located the front of the church and wasn't directly affected by the work and has also used the Congregation Church for events like the recent Remembrance Day service.

"We are very grateful to them for helping us out," he added.

"But we should be more than ready for the lead-up to Christmas."

Volunteers helped with cleaning the church yesterday (Monday, December 1st) and all being well the first big event will be on Friday (5pm) when children from Beer Primary School will be singing Christmas carols ahead of the village's annual Late Night Shopping event.

Voluntary scheme launched to stub-out smoking near children

PLAY areas across East Devon are signing up to a voluntary code asking people not to smoke near children.

In all, 37 play areas will be covered by the new code developed by Smokefree South West and East Devon District Council, using special signs designed by Smokefree South West. Helen Wharam, the district council's new public health projects officer, said: "We're working across East Devon to help protect future generations from the effects of tobacco and from taking up the habit of smoking."

"Children learn from imitating the adults around them, so children who live with smokers are more likely to become smokers themselves. Research suggests that reducing child exposure to smoking decreases the uptake of the habit amongst young people in the long term."

Healthy lifestyles

Launching the scheme at a play area in Littleham, Exmouth, on Thursday, November 20th, Councillor Peter Sullivan, East Devon's Health and Wellbeing Champion, said: "Our parks help East Devon's residents live active, healthy lifestyles. We're proud to be actively discouraging smoking around children in our play areas, helping to reduce the number of young people who smoke and at the same time reducing litter in the parks."

The new signs are intended as a reminder to parents and others that tobacco causes harm not only to those smoking but also to those around them. Smoking is associated with over 40 diseases, including various cancers, heart diseases, lung diseases, pregnancy complications and other effects such as gum disease.

■ EAST Devon's public health projects officer Helen Wharam and Health and Wellbeing Champion, Councillor Peter Sullivan, show cigarette butts found in play areas which they hope will become a thing of the past

Children of parents who smoke are more likely to suffer from respiratory symptoms and related infections, glue ear, bronchitis, pneumonia and asthma.

A spokesman for Littleham Church of England Primary School said: "We fully support the aims of this project, protecting future generations, raising awareness and ensuring smokefree zones are clear priorities."

A young pupil from the school who came along to watch as his contemporaries posed for photos with the signs, said: "I think it's a really good idea to ask people not to smoke near play areas. Young children or toddlers could pick up cigarette ends and if children see adults smoking it might encourage them to start."

The signs are currently being put up in 37 play areas across the district in towns including Axminster, Budleigh Salterton, Exmouth, Honiton, Sidmouth and Seaton.

Christmas social for U3A members

FOR members of the Honiton University of the Third Age (U3A) the festive season will begin on Wednesday, December 10th when they hold their Christmas social at the Mackarness Hall, High Street, at 2pm.

A great afternoon is in store with a full programme to include live musical entertainment, a fun quiz, raffle, "mystery objects" puzzle plus a delicious buffet.

The event is for members and admission is by ticket only.

A reminder that due to the Christmas social there will be no U3A meeting at the Beehive Centre in December.

Parishes join together for pilot lengthsman scheme

AXMOUTH, Uplyme, Combyne and Rousdon, and Sidmouth councils have joined forced to commission lengthsman work under the Parishes Together scheme, which encourages communities to work together.

The councils for each parish received joint funding from East Devon District Council to pilot the project and have also received extra funding from Devon County Council's highways department to employ their own contractor, rather than relying on the county-provided service.

Sidmouth town clerk Christopher Holland said: "Similar schemes in other parishes have shown that if the work done is locally-controlled it's much more effective, so we now hope to reap the benefits ourselves."

"We will be able to get the most important jobs done quickly, and with local knowledge of the roads, we're in a much better position to do this than the county's contractors".

Uplyme parish clerk Lois Wakeman added: "In days gone by, each parish had a lengthsman who was responsible for keeping ditches, drains and road edges clear of weeds and debris. This project hopes to return our currently neglected rural lanes to a much better condition, by employing a local company under the direction of each council.

"If this pilot is successful, we hope to continue with council tax-payer funding in future. As readers may know, Devon Highways has to find huge savings next year, and more and more of this sort of work will have to be done at the parish or town level!"

Anyone interested in tendering for this work has until December 3rd. A specification can be downloaded from Uplyme Parish Council's website or call the clerk on 01297 444707 for more details.

Mayor thinks NHS is building case against hospital staff by using fake reporter

AXMINSTER mayor Jeremy Walden says he might have been targeted by an impostor seeking contact details of local hospital staff.

He suspects that a person who claimed to be a reporter with The Guardian was actually an NHS official trying to build a case against dissenting hospital staff.

Councillor Walden revealed details of the encounter as he addressed Axminster Town Council on November 10th.

He told those attending: "We must all know someone who works at Axminster Hospital and is employed by Northern Devon Healthcare NHS Trust (NDHT).

"As such they are, under the terms of employment, not allowed to discuss the current proposals with anyone outside the NDHT.

"To do so would render them liable to immediate dismissal for gross misconduct."

The mayor said he had worked closely with a person, who is a senior clinician with NDHT, on a totally unrelated project, namely that of relaunching the town's youth club.

He explained: "I have, bearing in mind the above, been most studious to avoid discussing the hospital situation with this individual as I have no desire to put their employment at risk."

by Anders Larsson

Mr Walden was highly critical of NDHT at a recent public meeting about proposals for the hospital.

Referring to this meeting, he said: "A couple of days later I received a most unusual phone call from a Mr Ian Martin, working for The Guardian.

"He explained that he realised that staff were embargoed from speaking on the record to the press, so could I give him details of what this individual's [the senior clinician] views were?"

"I explained that I could not. I was suspicious. He then asked for this person's e-mail address."

Mr Walden did not comply, and said: "I subsequently found out that no one called Ian Martin works for The Guardian.

"I suspect, but have no proof, that I have been subject to Regulation of Investigative Powers Act 2000 (RIPA), which allows public bodies to request phone and e-mail records of individuals with only the permission of a senior police officer.

"This act, intended to thwart terrorism, has been widely abused by public bodies.

"It was used over 8,500 times last year by non-police bodies alone.

"Some people are playing dirty in this campaign, and we must be ever vigilant."

The Guardian does have a freelance columnist named Ian Martin, although it is unlikely that he would choose to write about NHS issues in Devon.

A Guardian spokesperson said: "If the Mayor of Axminster believes he has been contacted by someone impersonating a Guardian journalist he is welcome to raise the matter with us so we can look into it."

A spokesperson for NDHT didn't comment directly on the mayor's theory, but said: "We are aware of the statement given by Councillor Walden to Axminster Town Council.

"We have been, and continue to be, fully committed to working with the local community and our staff affected by the temporary changes to in-patient services at Axminster Hospital.

"We continue to encourage our staff to speak openly about the patient safety reasons for the changes and raise their comments or concerns with us.

"We have also encouraged our staff to participate in and contribute to NEW Devon CCG's consultation on community services. Equally, we have taken steps to ensure the community feel welcomed to provide their views on the temporary changes, and have held weekly drop-ins."

Further information about the proposals can be viewed by visiting <http://bit.ly/1ty1ay5>

Advertiser's Announcement

Sidmouth's Christmas Independent Shopping Challenge

SIDMOUTH Chamber of Commerce is delighted to announce that the Sidmouth Christmas Independent Shopping Challenge is running again for the second year. Last year was so successful that this time an additional 7 shops / businesses are taking part.

The challenge was launched on Saturday 15th November and runs until Christmas Eve. The purpose is to encourage people to shop locally and support their independent shops, ideally all year round, but particularly at Christmas. For every £1 that is spent in town between 50-70p will stay in the local economy, supporting the traders, giving jobs to local people and business to their local suppliers.

Sidmouth has a wonderful variety of independent shops and taking part in the shopping challenge will hopefully lead to some people visiting some of these participating shops for the first time. It is designed to be fun with incentives for children and adults alike.

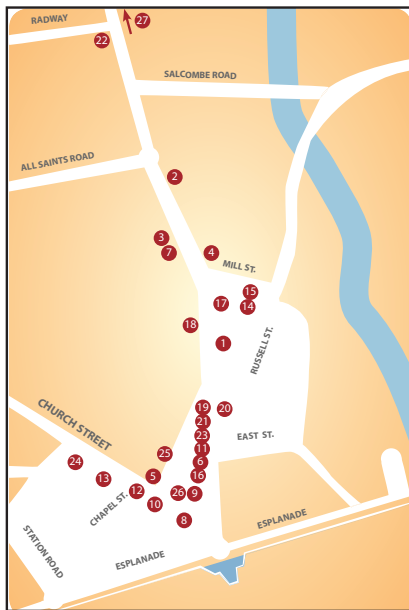

To take part, all you have to do is shop in 10 (out of the 27) participating shops collecting a bauble sticker each time. When the tree is complete, children can earn a certificate and small gift. Adults completing the challenge can enter the draw to win £200 to spend in Sidmouth shops!

Shopping with local independent businesses mean that not only will they get to know you and your shopping habits but they will be able to provide a service that chains are simply unable to supply.

It is a misconception that local independent shops are vastly more expensive than chains or shopping online. Think about what you might spend in travelling and parking in a city or relying on the postal system for something you've bought online. It's deeply satisfying to know that you have supported your local shops.

So, enjoy your Christmas Shopping more by shopping this year in your local independent shops.

Pupils' cookbook

PUPILS at Axminster Primary School have published a 210-page cookbook with the help of the PTFA (Parents, Teachers and Friends Association), featuring recipes chosen by the children. A launch party was held on Tuesday, November 18th, and guests were treated to samples of food based on recipes in the book. An initial print run of 200 is on sale from the school at £5 each. The book will also be sold at various events plus for one day at the local Tesco branch on a date to be announced. Those behind the book are grateful to the local businesses who advertised in the book

Carols around the tree

IT IS a Christmas tradition for Axminster Churches Together to sing carols on Minster Green on the second Thursday of December, accompanied by musicians of the Salvation Army.

This year is no exception, so singing will commence at 10am on Thursday, December 11th, albeit with a different set-up.

Anne Double of Axminster Churches Together said: "It is one of the busiest days of the year at Axminster Market and the familiar carols add the spirit of Christmas to the bustling market scene. But this year there was bad news – the musicians of Ottery St Mary Salvation Army Band had decided it was time to hang up their instruments and retire. Fortunately all was not lost – local band Saxminster stepped into the breach and we are delighted to say that they will be sending singers and musicians to make the event bigger than ever."

Everyone is welcome to come along and join in singing around the tree on the Minster Green on Thursday, December 11th from 10am–11am.

She also thanked those who are assisting the club in various ways, saying: "Rob Perry Marine has lent me a tow vehicle for the entire three weeks, The Castle Inn has donated £50 towards our new music system and Miller's Farm Shop are allowing us to work on the float and house it there for the duration."

New home for 'depressed' dogs

TWO depressed and inseparable dogs have been given a new lease of life in Seaton.

It's a happy ending for Lola and Sherman, who have finally found new owners after 20 months at Ferne Animal Sanctuary in Wambrook, near Chard.

Julie Nield, from PJ's Social Club in Marine Crescent, explains why they have taken Lola and Sherman into their home: "It's only a dog" – that's what people say who have never experienced the love of owning a dog.

"My beautiful Taz, a GSD cross, wasn't just a dog; he was my friend that I spent my life with.

"We walked together, swam together in the sea, he was there when I laughed – he was there when I cried. He was my best friend. And he died.

"Taz collapsed on the beach, his favourite place in the world, with a massive internal bleed.

"He was put to sleep whilst we cradled him in our arms. The following morning I was a mess: I had all this love to give and no one to give it to.

"I remembered reading an article in the local paper the previous week about Ferne Animal Sanctuary appealing for someone to adopt two dogs who had been in the kennels for so long they were starting to show signs of depression. I telephoned the sanctuary fully expecting the dogs to be in their forever homes already.

"I spoke to Tara Nirula who explained there had been a lot of interest but people were loathe to adopt two big dogs who, to put it nicely, didn't like the company of other dogs.

"A couple of hours later I was introduced to Sherman and Lola. I cannot explain why or how, but I knew they needed me as much as I needed them.

"This was my first visit to Ferne Animal Sanctuary and I cannot express enough how wonderful and amazing all the staff are. The love and care they show to the animals is unbelievable.

"After only one session with dog training and behaviourist Peter Mounsey, based in Exeter, we are seeing a huge improvement in the rehabilitation of Sherman and Lola in the company of other dogs.

"They are significantly calmer, which in turn has vastly improved my confidence when exercising them.

"Now, 14 days on, I have two best friends. I will always have a place in my heart for Taz, and it sounds crazy, but I know he would approve because he understood what love was all about."

Tara Nirula, acting head of animal care at Ferne, said: "Everyone at Ferne Animal Sanctuary are delighted that Lola and Sherman have finally found a new home after being at the sanctuary for so long.

"Although we really miss them, this has made our year and we haven't stopped smiling since they left.

"We are thrilled that their new owners are such lovely people who can give them so much love and attention. We would like to thank everyone who has given their support in helping us find these dogs a new home and in particular, to the public for their kind messages of support and encouragement."

Ferne Animal Sanctuary launched its

New Digs for Dogs £1m-project for 2014/15 in March 2014 to build a new enhanced kennel block, improved grooming and veterinary care room, information hub, social unit, offices, reception and purpose-built rehoming centre. Fundraising packs for the appeal, details of how to donate and more information about all their events can be obtained by calling 01460 65214 or by visiting www.ferneanimalsanctuary.org

Lace group tribute

MEMBERS of Beer Lace Group have made a special tribute to the men who served their country in World War I.

The group, which has 14 members and meets regularly in Beer, have designed and produced a beautiful poppy made of lace which it is hoped will be displayed in the Mariners' Hall.

"Richard Scott (organiser of the WWI event in the autumn) asked if we would like to contribute something and we came up with his lace poppy," said Shirley Pavey.

by Kevin Fahey

"Beer has always been renowned for its lace-making so we thought this would be appropriate."

The group meets on the first and third Thursday of every month (7-9pm) at the Congregational Church and new members are always welcome.

Beer switch-on this Friday

FATHER Christmas, who will be arriving on a sled pulled by reindeer – thanks to sponsorship from Osborne's bistro and coffee shop – will be turning on Beer Christmas Lights at the Mariners Hall on Friday (December 5th) at 6pm.

Santa will then be pulled down to his grotto at the Bomb Shelter with the reindeer returning to the hall which is hosting a Christmas market for the 'Raise the Roof' fund.

Local businesses will be open all evening.

"It is going to be a really special night," said Jackie Tite, secretary of the Beer Village Forum.

Visit Santa at school's Christmas bazaar

FATHER Christmas will be arriving in style on Thursday (December 4th) for Seaton Primary School' annual Christmas Bazaar, organised by the PTFA.

Entrance to the event, which runs from 5:30pm-7:30pm, is free and everyone is welcomed to come and join in the festive celebrations.

Watch Santa arrive and visit his grotto, listen to carols around the Christmas tree and enjoy a glass of mulled wine.

What better way to get in the mood for Christmas?

Everything from a chocolate tombola, glitter tattoos and badge making, balloon magic, fun games, local crafts – including jewellery and handmade presents and more – will be on offer along with mince pies and cakes of course.

The bazaar is one of the school PTFA's annual events to raise much needed funds for school equipment.

Sailing cadets congratulated at prizegiving

YOUNG sailing cadets were congratulated on their achievements at Axe Yacht Club's annual prizegiving.

Commodore Gordon Wright congratulated the youngsters and presented them with prizes. Among those collecting awards, Sam was given the Lysander Trophy for the most outstanding performance, Josh won the cup for the best beginner, Emily was awarded the Gaverick Cup, Amelia was nominated "Capsize Queen" while Ben, Tom and Rosie were highly commended.

After dinner, at which four cadets served the meals to over 60 members, the Commodore's partner Jennie presented the prizes to the adults.

Among the winners was David Mettam, a past commodore and long-standing member of the club, who again scooped several prizes but paid tribute to his crew members on board his light cruiser "Arun".

Dave Barnet won the most prizes amongst the dinghy sailors demonstrating his outstanding sailing ability, while Rob Sutherland with Jane were awarded the "I Fell In" trophy, the tale of which caused much amusement.

Michael Crees, Ian and Amanda Parker shared a special achievement trophy for organising the club's participation in international event Barts Bash, when 43 cruisers and 28 dinghies from the club raced around marker buoys in Seaton Bay raising over £2,000 in aid of the Andrew "Bart" Simpson memorial fund to help young people to sail.

Another successful show for railway club

THORNCOMBE Rail Activities Club's 12th annual model railway exhibition proved to be another very successful event, despite the atrocious weather conditions in the early part of the day.

Visitors were able to see a total of 17 working layouts from as far afield as Barnstaple and Evesham. All of the popular modelling scales and gauges were represented, alongside some less-common ones, including one layout featuring large-scale, gas-fired live steam locomotives.

Prototypes ranged from 1920s West Country steam through to modern-day diesels and even included some beautifully modelled, hand-built 1950s London trams.

The working layouts were supported by a display of railway memorabilia and a selection of trade stands selling new and used models, accessories, books and rail-related gifts for all the family.

Best-in-Show award (as voted by the visiting public) went to the Culm Valley Model Railway Club for their recreation of Uffculme station on the long-departed Hemyock branch. Joint runners-up were Russell Hobbs with "Bridgebury Gate" and Dave Taylor's impression of Bridport Town from the might-have-been Marsh-

Musbury Moles pre-school is last stop on Scottish dragon's worldwide travels

CHILDREN at Musbury Moles were very excited for the arrival of Dougy, Scotland's bravest little dragon.

The cuddly dragon has travelled the world and Musbury Moles was his last stop before being reunited with his Scottish family in time for Christmas.

The children have loved looking through his books and all the great photos and souvenirs he has collected during his travels, and reading about his amazing adventures. Dougy's visit tied in with the children's recent lessons on animals, habitats and the idea of mystical creatures.

Musbury Moles, based at the Musbury Primary School site, has recently seen a revamp of its outside area and has introduced some great areas to enhance the children's learning.

The pre-school recently held a sensory morning for children, pre-schools in the local area a great gathering of like-minded professionals. Moles now have a loaning library of sensory resources available which is proving very popular.

The Moles currently have spaces for Wednesdays, Thursdays and Friday. For more information visit the pre-school's website www.musburymolespreschool.worcs.sch.uk future of the hobby.

Any profit from the day will be donated to railway-related charities and the club expects that this will again be in the order of several hundred pounds.

Organisers would like to thank Steve Flint, editor of Railway Modeller magazine, for giving up his time to formally open the exhibition, as well as grateful Peco of Beer and Buffers of Axminster for their continued help and support.

Over the last few years show has gained a reputation as a good family day out and is held in high regard by the modelling fraternity across the South West due to the excellent standard and variety of exhibits. Next year's event will be held on Saturday November 7th 2015, same time, same place.

Club given insight into Metropolitan Railway

AT the November meeting of Thorncombe Rail Activities Club members were pleased to welcome Colin Brading, who gave an insight into 150 years of the Metropolitan Railway.

The "Met", opened in 1863, was built to transfer passengers and goods from the mainline termini of Paddington, Euston and Kings Cross to the Farringdon and Smithfield areas. The world's first underground railway, it was an important east-west link intended to reduce road congestion through central London - the CrossRail of its day.

The original line was about four miles long and was built under the Marylebone and Euston Roads by "cut and cover", with tunnels and cuttings on other stretches. Passengers were carried in gas-lit coaches drawn by steam locomotives - conditions in the tunnels must have been far from ideal.

The Met was a small railway with big ideas. Later extensions to the original line saw it stretching 50 miles to Verney Junction, between Aylesbury and Banbury, and the company was instrumental in the development of the "Metroland" residential areas to the north and west of London. The railway was taken over by the London Passenger Transport Board in 1933 and became part of the London Underground. Its tracks today form the Metropolitan and Hammersmith and City lines and are part of the District and Circle routes.

The next club meeting is on Wednesday, December 10th and is an illustrated talk by Terry Nicholls entitled "British Steam at Home and Abroad". The meeting will be held at Thorncombe Village Hall and starts at 7.30pm. Non-members are welcome, there are refreshments, and parking is free.

Memories of Tibet at November's Axminster Probus meeting

AXMINSTER PROBUS CLUB
TIBET – a country, large, remote and mysterious with a culture surviving from the distant past.

These were some of the aspects explained by Ek Bowley in his talk to Axminster Probus Club's November meeting.

His visits there were in the late Eighties and early Nineties when the Chinese annexation was still in its harsh stage.

All but a few monasteries had been dynamited or closed, the Dalai Lama had fled and the borders all but closed.

Bordered by high mountains the plateau had always been difficult for travellers and tradesmen but now, with the trade routes to India sealed off, conditions were particularly difficult.

Learning something of the language gave Ek an insight into the true feelings of those who were left and enabled him to paint an accurate picture.

When he was there the harshness of the original Chinese rule was abating somewhat and as a result some monasteries had been rebuilt, although the Buddhist religion was still discouraged. This became more evident when Mao Tse Tung came to power.

Of course the Chinese have not been idle; they have created roads where none existed before though it is fair to say these are more for their benefit than the Tibetans.

This construction has also created landslides so the benefits are somewhat mixed. Ek thought the future for Tibetans was far from clear but hoped that the younger Chinese, with their worldlier attitude, might lead to a more tolerant regime.

Even so it is highly unlikely that the Dalai Lama will ever return to his roots.

The talk was well illustrated with excellent slides which brought home both the beauty and the backwardness of this benighted land.

The Axminster Probus Club for retired and semi-retired business and professional men meets at the A35 Pit Stop, Gammons Hill, Kilmington.

Its next meeting will be on Tuesday, January 6th. For further information ring 01460 220528.

■ AT THE Sidmouth Flower Arranging Club AGM new chairwoman Sheila Baker was welcomed to the position.

Applause and thanks were given to retiring chairman Rena Berriman for all her hard work. The treasurer reported that finances were healthy but that the group must not become complacent as costs are ever rising.

Trophies were awarded for annual competitive points: Champion – Di Emms, Reserve – Judy Green and third – Doreen McKay.

After the meeting a talk was given by Dr Archer about 'Plants as Architects' which members enjoyed.

November 25th was the last meeting of the year, and Sue Neale offered a lovely taste of Christmas to come with arrangements full of colour and touches of sparkle.

One lovely round pot was inspired by Christmas pudding, and another was done in an open hamper with 'smoked salmon' roses and other goodies.

The Three Kings were all matching reds, purples and gold and the grand finale was a splendid piece of driftwood bleached white on which she arranged whites and silver greys and shiny things – really spectacular! There were also musical interludes from Stewart and a bit of singing, which was fun.

The group doesn't meet again until January 27th at St Francis Hall, Woolbrook; visitors and new members will be made very welcome.

Flower festival and concert remembers village's fallen

IN CONJUNCTION with a flower festival, depicting poems and songs from two World Wars, a concert to commemorate the Great War in verse and music was held on November 8th at St John the Evangelist, Tatworth.

Proceeds from the evening and the Remembrance Service the following day, which totalled £1,300, were donated to the RBL Axminster and a cheque was handed to PCC member Lesley Frankau, chairman of the Women's Section Axminster a few days later.

In front of a packed church, including the Mayor of Chard and Consort, Neil Parish MP and his wife Sue, local villagers and members of the Royal British Legion (Axminster), the commemoration dedicated the evening to 28 Tatworth men who marched off to war and never returned.

Descendents of the men who died and who still live in the village were also in attendance. The concert, which featured poetry from many famous Great War poets, including Wilfred Owen, Rupert Brooke, Vera Brittain, Rudyard Kipling, also featured letters from the trenches, some sent to their families in Tatworth and letters to their sweethearts.

Local villager, Caroline Fowler, whose grandfather survived the war, loaned a book of poetry written by him for the display.

Aided by the Membury Choir, who led the community singing under the direction of Richard Barrell, narrator David Ayres led the tribute from the moment the 'Lights went out all over Europe' until the finale of the Tomb of the Unknown Warrior in Westminster Abbey, followed by Lawrence Binyon's moving Exhortation from the 'To the Fallen'.

Choral music interspersed throughout the concert added great atmosphere and provided a moving tribute to all who fought in the Great War both from Britain and the Commonwealth, totalling almost 900,000 in casualties.

Members of the congregation read many of the sombre poetry interspersed with letters from Pat Leonard DSO, known as the Fighting Padre whose account of life in the trenches proved to be both sad and in many cases humorous, in his depiction of a member of the Flying Corps who thought he had landed in enemy territory and destroyed his plane only to discover he had returned to his own airfield. Unhurt he received a caustic "dressing-down" from aircraft mechanics.

During the intermission, World War One trench cakes were served to over 140 people, taken from an authentic recipe.

The audience took time to read some of the letters and documents on display from local men and the stunning arrangements on display throughout the church.

Our thanks to all who participated, worked behind the scenes and supported the evening from both the church and Tatworth village.

■ THE Axe Valley Centre, in association with The National Trust, were given a talk by Peter Trigg at Collyford Memorial Hall, on the November 12th.

This was a nostalgic look at Devon dating back to the 1950s. There were slides of Dartmoor and the southern coast, giving an insight into areas which had changed. There were also images of waterfalls and railways.

The next talk will be an illustrated talk entitled 'Our Butterflies and their Lifestyles', to be given by David Cox on Wednesday, January 14th at 2:30pm; non-members welcome, £1.50 (including tea and biscuits).

If you can't stand the heat, get out of the kitchen!

■ I WOULD like to respond to the letter of Mayor of Axminster, Councillor Jeremy Walden in the letters page of November 11th.

Councillor Walden started his letter by stating that it was a response to my letter of two weeks ago. Had he actually read my letter? Not one of the points he has "cleared up" were in any way an answer to my letter.

I object to him putting my name above a list of answers to which I had never asked the questions. It is typical of what is happening with the current council; they are not actually listening to what the electorate are saying.

They seem to think that by circling their wagons and retreating to a defensive position they will be able to defend themselves against all the criticism that is coming their way; even apparently blaming the editor of this newspaper for whipping up sentiment against them, which is laughable at best. The editor of a local paper has a responsibility to report and reflect on the wider feelings of its readership and I hope the council are not suggesting in any way that all these letters are not genuine and accurately represented.

Why do the elected representatives seem so determined to find other reasons for the dissatisfaction? That just shows the contempt that we, the townspeople, are seemingly held by some of the councillors. We are entitled to show our discontent with people who have been elected to serve the interests of the town, and yet appear more interested in their own representations in cartoons and petty debates about beards.

There are serious matters arising in the town and they have let the town down with their recent performances. They really need to grow up and take criticism aimed. They react like nobody has any right to comment or criticise and for some inexplicable reason object to the filming of council meetings. It is acceptable to the House of Commons and Lords so why should it not be so here?

This leads people to the inevitable conclusion that we are not welcome to interfere in council matters and its a cosy closed shop. This in itself does not encourage new council candidates to step forward.

I am sure we will all be assured next May of the marvellous job they have all done but the fact remains that the representation the town received in the two recent big issues to concern us all was somewhat lacking given the outcomes. Also, for Councillor Walden to claim the credit for the temporary stay the library has received is both inaccurate and contemptuous of the Save Axminster Library Campaign group.

The leader of this group did a fantastic job of gathering information and leading the campaign. Anyone who attended the meeting at the Guildhall couldn't fail to be more impressed with her meticulous research and campaign than the benign objections of the council. She had done her homework and gathered the facts needed.

This was what the elected councillors should have done - it was almost shameful the way they were shown up in front of their own electorate.

Far from trying to take any credit for the work she and others had done, they should be publicly acknowledging the fantastic work that was done by others, and recognising that it should never have been up to the public to do this. It only became necessary because it was apparent that an anaemic representation and a lack of passion by our council was going to be seized upon by the "cut everything brigade" at the county council.

A passionate defence was what was needed, as was also the case with the NHS meeting at the Guildhall. Again, this didn't come from our public servants but from the floor. The council seemed more bothered that their relationships with Devon County Council. People who are on more than one council must ask themselves about conflicts of interest on matters like this. This is not innuendo, it's common sense.

This was exactly my point in the last letter - that the town would be better served by those who have a passion for specific matters rather than party politicians more interested in currying favour with their seniors farther up the local political ladder.

Stating that if we don't like the current council then we should stand is a typical cliché get out by those who have been elected. The fact is that we didn't get elected - they did! And they need to show some fight against the things affecting their electorate instead of saving it for defending themselves against what they perceive as personal attacks, which are simply the people's right to voice their opinion of the jobs that their public servants are doing.

Councillors do a valuable job for which we should all be appreciative, as long as they are showing the necessary attributes to do the job and accept and listen to the criticisms of those they serve.

If you don't like the local political heat then get out of the council kitchen. You may just find that your voters decide that for you.

SEAN LITTLE,
Axminster

Hospital proposal 'most short-sighted'

■ THIS letter is to express my extreme concerns about the proposed closure of Ottery St Mary's local hospital.

I have lived here since about the time that the hospital was built - it was not long ago - and while 15 years have aged me somewhat, the hospital is still in excellent condition!

I find it impossible to believe that the money saved over the costs of staffing, heating, etc. would be more than that lost by the original cost of building and the costs involved in providing alternative care via your "Hospital at Home" and the extra staff, beds and other facilities that would be required by the Royal Devon & Exeter and Honiton hospitals. I doubt whether this "Hospital at Home" would work any better than the infamous "Care in the Community", and is there even a feasible and costed plan for this in place?

It seems that the residents of Ottery St Mary will be footing the bill for this, in terms of the reduced and less efficient care and the expense of getting to Exeter or Honiton, parking charges, the time that would have to be allowed for the traffic to get to appointments on time. The distance and cost would also mean people having to stay would probably not be given the crucial support of many visitors.

Fortunately, I am relatively healthy but, even so, have felt the benefit of having a local hospital on a number of occasions - a bad gash to the palm of a hand, a broken finger, a dog bite to the back of the hand, other minor procedures and, last but not least was the time I required an immediate transfusion which, for the amount, I had to stay overnight (at a time when I had family visiting from London for just a couple of days).

These injuries, etc. were dealt with proper care, provided within reasonable time and distance, not just to my benefit but, I am sure, at less cost to the NHS than if I'd had to attend further afield.

I deem this proposed closure most short-sighted.

MAUREEN RICHMOND,
Slade Close, Ottery St Mary

Councillors ignoring planning officer's 'sound technical reasons' is unacceptable

■ TOWN planning is part of a democratic process. We have opportunities to make our views known on proposed developments and should do so or accept the results, "warts and all".

One of the warts is that Councillors can, and do, overturn recommendations made by their trained professional officers and consultants. Sometimes they do this for, what they consider to be overriding, pragmatic or strategic reasons.

An example would be the decision to abandon the requirement for affordable housing on the Bovis "Executive Homes" site next to Seaton Tesco. They may take a similar view of the proposal to abandon a site identified for an hotel in favour of retirement flats - we shall see.

What I find totally unacceptable and anti-democratic is their abrogation of sound technical reasons their officials give for refusal of an application, such as happened recently over Fosse Way Court. Councillors, by and large, have no training or expertise in matters of master planning, design, massing, density, materials and so on; their officers do. You only have to look at the existing Fosse Way Court building, widely regarded as an eyesore, to see what can happen if the rule of "I don't know much about art, but I know what I like" takes over.

I shall be glad to see the existing Fosse Way Court buildings upgraded or replaced, but EDDC and Seaton Town Council must resist being pressured into accepting proposals on the basis that any development is better than none. To do otherwise is to condemn Seaton to perpetual piecemeal mediocrity in its built environment.

Lack of logical thinking in closing down inpatient beds

■ “LOGIC lacking” - this was my first reaction to reading a leaflet informing me that “Your Hospital Needs You”.

It could have equally read “We Need Our Hospital”. Either way, Axminster residents will be well aware that the axe is due to fall on the community hospital inpatient beds. It is suggested that we should send a personal letter to a list of worthy gentlemen, who it is thought might have possible influence on the final decision. Frankly, this sounds like a non-starter – apart, of course, from contacting the Secretary of State for Health himself.

Instead, my letter is addressed to the ordinary people of Axminster and those in the surrounding area – in fact, the readers of this, their local newspaper, who should be persuaded to exert even more pressure than hitherto in this predicament. Whether any major political party would promise in their manifesto to reverse any illogical decisions is, perhaps, a far-fetched idea, but where in the future you put your “X” on a ballot paper does come to mind if an offer should be made.

What puzzles many folk is how much logical thought has actually been applied by the Clinical Commissioning Group (NEW CCG) in coming to a bed closure decision. Certainly we all have to accept that the present NHS financial situation is dire, but is the answer really to be found in targeting Axminster inpatients, especially following the costly hospital refurbishment four years ago?

Furthermore, Axminster has an operating theatre, and physiotherapy, occupational therapy, and ultra sound and mental health day units, which Seaton Hospital cannot equally match. Where then is the logic in moving beds to Seaton? And the mere thought of Axminster folk, and many others, having to travel over to Wonford to see a consultant is enough to spark additional mental stress problems immediately caused by trying to find a space in the Exeter car parks.

Sometimes circumstances demand using a car to drop-off a patient unable to travel by a hospital bus. Large medical buildings are constructed, but what Wonford desperately needs never appears – a multi-storey car park. Sadly, such plans never seem to reach the maternity ward!

Perhaps the logical thinkers in charge need some IVF assistance? Of course, in this respect, we are blessed that many consultants are able to hold regular clinics in Axminster Hospital. They possibly also enjoy having an excuse to escape into the East Devon countryside but take a trip out on the Chard road, with the construction of a new estate of houses rapidly changing the countryside, and it clearly highlights the imminent growth in Axminster’s population – so, lets close down the local hospital inpatient beds! Is this logical thought?

One does question what meaningful experience the members of the so-called NEW CCG actually possess to justify the major decisions they are proposing which will so affect Axminster residents and the many local village folk? Do we know the names of the persons comprising the Clinical Commissioning Group? Perhaps they should be widely published because, if their decisions are not based on justified logical thinking, they should be prepared to face the music from East Devon residents who will gain or suffer as a consequence of their judgement.

Long history of Tory leadership in East Devon

■ I DOUBT “you could tie a blue ribbon to a pig and it would get in” (“From the deputy editor’s chair”, November 25th). However, it is not hard to understand why the Conservative voting tradition has persisted in East Devon – and it has little to do with merit.

Long before 1834 Honiton borough was dominated by Tories or “friends of Pitt” and the establishment.

The reasons became obvious to all. Honiton Borough was both poor and among the most corrupt in England with “a reputation for shameless venality”. The potwallopers votes were literally bought and sold to politicians by the town’s jobbing attorneys and bankers such as Phillips Mules and Christopher Flood.

For centuries the Lord of the Manor for Honiton – whose title could also be bought and sold – not only controlled grazing rights to meadow and pastures but also appointed the Portreeve (mayor) and the returning officer. Only those with money and influence, sometimes subsidised by government, could afford to stand for Honiton. Even some of these were bankrupted and the “Honiton Ghost of a corrupt borough” – the title of Thomas Rowlandson’s infamous cartoon – cast its shadow over numerous elections until the Reform Act of 1867.

The Act was not a Tory gift but hard won by the efforts of reformists (later by chartists), such as Lord Thomas Cochrane who, at the Honiton election of 1806, publicly refused to accept “place or pension”. Cochrane proved to be a radical and a scourge of the establishment so the Tory spell on Honiton seemed broken; a parliamentary website refers to the election as the “dawn of English democracy”, which may be a little ambitious.

Politics was not only Tory but male dominated. Only in 1928, within living memory, did most women win the vote due to the actions of another person with who came to Honiton a century after Cochrane – our famous suffragette Juanita Maxwell Phillips. Some believe that if Mrs Phillips had stood for parliament she could have become our first non-Tory woman MP. But a century later we still have a male dominated parliament and a Tory dominated, undemocratic, House of Lords.

While one should not compare politicians to pigs, the recent expenses scandal, like an earlier one uncovered by Cochrane, was referred to as “snouts in the trough”. I plan to tell the story of “The dawn of English democracy – the Honiton election of 1806” to the University of the Third Age on February 18th at the Beehive.

TONY SIMPSON,
Ashleigh Road, Honiton

Roundabout needed at A30 junction

■ HONITON is growing, no doubt about it... and traffic (same as anywhere that grows) is also becoming more of a problem.

The main place this is a problem, and always has been a problem, is up by the junction near the new Aldi. Traffic coming off the A30 and heading into Honiton or the industrial estate (Argos, Hombase, Lidl, etc.) is building up, even more so now that there is an Aldi there.

Most times I drive past it’s backing up half the way between the junction and the A30 and sometimes all the way back to the A30 due to lack of people being let out to turn right towards Argos... it has always been needed but now, some work to that junction would definitely be a good idea.

A roundabout would be the cheapest, simplest and most efficient way to solve this problem, would keep traffic flowing smoother for all directions.

SERVES: 6

PREP TIME: 15 minutes

COOKING TIME: 20-25 minutes

INGREDIENTS:

- 500g pack shortcrust pastry
- 200g (7 oz) leftover roast turkey, diced
- 2 tbsp cranberry sauce
- 6 leftover stuffing balls, roughly chopped (140g)
- 50g low fat soft cheese
- 75g (3 oz) frozen peas, defrosted
- 1 medium egg, beaten

METHOD:

- Preheat the oven to 200°C, gas mark 6.
- Roll out the pastry and cut 6 x 17cm (7") circles.
- Mix together the turkey, cranberry sauce, stuffing, soft cheese and peas and divide between the pastry circles. Brush the pastry edges with egg. Bring the edges up and press to seal well to form a pasty shape.

- Place the pasties on a baking tray, sealed edges facing up and brush with the egg. Bake for 20-25 minutes until golden.

- 1 sheet ready rolled puff pastry
- 1 egg, beaten
- Schwartz Sea Salt and Black Pepper to season

METHOD:

- Pre-heat the oven to 200°C, 400°F, Gas Mark 6.
 - Heat the butter in a large pan and fry the bacon for 2-3 minutes until it begins to crisp, add the leeks and cook for 10-15 minutes, until they are softened.
 - Add the turkey and heat through, then sprinkle over the flour and stir in.
 - Add the white wine, crème fraîche and Herbs. Stir through and allow to simmer for 10 minutes to reduce slightly. Season to taste.
- Spoon into an ovenproof dish, top with the pastry and brush with the egg. Cook in the oven for around 30-35 minutes, until the pastry is cooked.

CHRISTMAS

FESTIVE FRIDAY 5TH DECEMBER 2014 in Axminster

Christmas in Axminster kicks off with Festive Friday

FESTIVE Friday returns to Axminster this week on the fifth day of December. As usual, Trinity Square will be the centrepiece as Christmas officially arrives.

The programme of events starts at 5pm with the church bells ringing, and canned music from 5.15pm.

At 5.30pm Mayor Jeremy Walden and Lord of the Manor Jim Rowe will switch on the Christmas Lights on Minster Green and the Minster Christmas Tree.

Town Crier Nick Goodwin will then read his festive poem, to be followed by a festive song or two by Axminster Musical Theatre.

The first Punch and Judy show is scheduled for 5.50pm, with Santa arriving 15 minutes later at 6.05pm.

Lyme Regis Town Band, under the leadership of musical director John Powell, will play during the evening and Karizma Majorettes will start a performance at 6.20pm.

Compere Mervyn Symes will keep people informed throughout.

Festive Friday is organised by The Rotary Club of Axminster, with the help of the following: Axminster Inner Wheel, HALFF, Axminster Lions Club, Axminster Community Primary School, Rainbows Playgroup, Membury Primary School and Pre school, All Saints Primary School and Wise Owls Pre School, Dragonflies School, Marshwood Primary School, Musbury Primary School, Andrew Bolton, Axminster Drama Group, Axminster Tourist Information Centre, Axminster Musical Theatre, The Minster Church.

Little Bits Of Lovely

IT'S not just me that Little Bits Of Lovely represents. It's a love of the handmade, the time spent to make things special, the makers that have approached me since I moved into my little shop in Miltons Yard, have bowled me over with their talent and passion for what they do.

We stock work from an array of artists, makers and ceramicists; Damson Tree Pottery, nature inspired colourful jewellery, tiles and bowls, traditional handmade Teddy Bears to make your heart melt and of course beautiful pre-loved clothes!

Local Craftsman and furniture designer Nick Shannon's work fits nicely into my 'man gift' section!

Bassy Loves Betsy is fun jewellery with a touch of kitsch. She's so local, we bump into each other on the school run!

Silver Chilli, bring us unique Fair Trade 925 Silver Jewellery, direct from Mexico. They aim to put 95% of their profits back into community.

I'm excited to be introducing Red Tribe Jewellery; a non profit beadwork project empowering marginalised Maasai woman. The beadwork is modern, with elements of the traditional, with very affordable prices.

We are in our infancy, with projects bubbling away in the think tank. Come and see us.

Axminster Health & Wellbeing Centre

A massive thank you from Canned Sunshine

SINCE September 2012 the Axminster Health and Wellbeing Centre has been home to "Canned Sunshine", Axminster's food bank. During this time we have been delighted by the generosity of local people keen to help those less fortunate than themselves. This has been achieved through donations of food, time and money. We receive frequent donations from the food bins at the Co-op and from 1st to 10th December there will also be collection bins in Tesco. As well as this, we have had incredible support from schools, particularly during the recent harvest festivals and from other local charities and organisations. The service we provide, with your help, is a life line to local people in crisis and your generosity has helped hundreds of people get back on track. Sadly there are still many people who need our help. We would like to make this Christmas season special for them too and would very much appreciate your festive donations. Food can either be dropped off at Tesco (until 10th December) or Co-op or it can be brought directly into the Centre. Thanks once again for all your support.

If you'd like to find out more, why not pop into the Centre, call us on 01297 32331, or visit our website www.axminsterwellbeing.com

Melanie Brown's Hair & Beauty Salon

Even more beautiful with your experienced Beauty Therapist

AT MELANIE Brown's we can offer the very best range of Guinot facials to protect and enhance the complexion.

Cosmetic products are carefully designed and they should also be carefully prescribed. Since a cosmetic product is effective only if it corresponds to your personal beauty goals, your Guinot beauty expert is especially attentive to your particular skin needs and will begin each treatment with a personal consultation.

Your Beauty Therapist makes exclusive care available to you for immediate beauty results. Explain how you would like to improve your facial appearance and your therapist will advise you of which Guinot beauty treatment is best adapted to your skin type. This will enable you to reach your desired beauty goals.

This month we have a number of Guinot Beauty Gift Sets worth £45 to give away with this advertisement for any of the facials described below.

AROMATIC FACIAL Beauty care with essential oils.

Nature has created medicines which have cared for humanity for over 10,000 years. Guinot thus uses natural sources to provide essential oils and plant concentrates for the aromatic treatments to bring natural beauty to your skin.

When you enter the Beauty room you will be greeted with the scent of essential oils for a marvellous beauty experience: an initiation to serenity. This unique personalised method combines the benefits of essential oils and massaging techniques to fill your skin with energy and provide a long lasting effect.

Beauté Neuve, Double Peeling

The epidermis is composed of approximately 30 cell layers. When the outer layers are dehydrated, they cause the face to become dull looking. With the "peeling" treatment it is possible to remove dull cells, letting the glow of new cells shine through. The fruit acids in the Peel In gel, penetrate between dead cells to break the intracellular links, then Peel out moisture will gently remove them. At the end of the treatment, Clarimasque with pure Vitamin C regenerates the elastic fibres, enhancing a natural glow and lightening the skin.

Liftosome, "Rejuvenating-Lifting" Treatment.

Liftosome is a treatment completely dedicated to the firmness and youthfulness of the skin, thanks to the key active ingredient: Pro Collagen Concentrate, and the effects of the Thermolift mask. This treatment will redefine the skin and tighten the features.

Specialist Treatments

IPL/VPL Laser skin rejuvenation using state of the art, internationally recognised equipment. WHAT IS IPL? IPL is a revolutionary new technique pioneered by Energist for permanent hair reduction and all aspects of skin rejuvenation. Using short pulses of light energy, which can vary in number, length and frequency, the IPL system emits light across a range of wavelengths, allowing a greater range of more gentle treatments to be performed on virtually all hair and skin types.

The safe and effective technology helps to remove and improve the effects of age, hormonal activity and over exposure to the sun can have on the skin. Using short, safe controlled pulses of filtered light to help remove unwanted hair and skin imperfections, and to improve texture and tone, IPL leaves skin clearer and smoother.

SEATON CHORAL SOCIETY SING BACH'S CHRISTMAS ORATORIO

FOR many music-lovers, Bach is an absolute must in preparation for Christmas – just as he is for Easter.

'Oratorio: a musical setting of a sacred text based on a biblical story'. In this case, the story of the nativity unfolds in four ways: through the words of the Evangelist; through arias sung by solo voices; through slow-moving, heartfelt chorales or hymn tunes, and through the fervent, dramatic choruses, strengthened and enhanced by a small orchestra which includes strings, flutes, oboes, trumpets and timpani, with a continuo section consisting of cello and harpsichord.

The society's musical director, Dr Peter Milmer, started his musical training as a chorister at Winchester Cathedral and at Charterhouse school before completing his medical training in Cardiff, where he conducted a chamber choir and orchestra. He has performed, composed and conducted from an early age - his 'Requiem' was recently performed in Exeter Cathedral, to critical and popular acclaim. He took over the directorship of Seaton Choral Society in 2011, and his good-humoured insistence on strong phrasing, accurate detail and a full-blooded approach to emotional climaxes has resulted in lively rehearsals and fine performances.

The society is blessed in having the ideal tenor in the form of Leslie Baker, (musical director of Seaton Choral Society from 1999 – 2011) to sing the tenor arias and the pivotal role of the Evangelist. His professional career began as a Choral Scholar at Cambridge, and throughout his career as singer, conductor, clarinetist and teacher he has given numerous operatic, oratorio and recital performances throughout the west country and beyond. The bass solos will be sung by the fine-voiced bass baritone David Fouracre who (understandably) is constantly in demand as a soloist; other solos will be sung by some talented members of the society. The orchestra will be led by Alex Ennis, with Michael Dawson (cello) and Michèle Banting (keyboard) supplying the continuo.

Bach's Christmas Oratorio will be presented at 4pm on Sunday, December 14th at The Gateway (Seaton Town Hall) Tickets (£10) from The Box Office, Tel: 01297 625699

SPOTLIGHT ON MY SERVICE

Michelle Hague Hypnotherapy

Helping to cope with stress and anxiety

Anxiety and stress can often create symptoms that in time cause illness. Anxiety is known to produce noticeable physical symptoms, such as rapid heartbeat, high blood pressure, and digestive problems. In General Anxiety Disorder (GAD) and Social Anxiety Disorder (SAD) the symptoms become so severe that normal daily functioning. Clinical Hypnosis and Cognitive behavioural therapy (CBT) are common treatments for stress and anxiety disorders and can be very effective in changing thinking and responses.

In contrast with CBT and in many ways very similar to Hypnosis Mindfulness and mindfulness-based therapies (MBTs) seek to change the relationship between the anxious person and his or her thoughts.

In mindfulness, the person focuses on the bodily sensations that arise when anxious. Instead of avoiding or withdrawing from these feelings, the focus is on remaining present and fully experiences the symptoms of anxiety. Instead of avoiding distressing thoughts, opening up to them in an effort to accept that they are not literally true, just ideas and imaginings often related to the past or future events but no less unreal in the present.

By remaining present in the moment aware of the breath and the body, individuals can learn that the anxiety they experience is merely a reaction to thoughts. By positively responding to threatening events instead of being reactive they can overcome an mistaken stress fight-or-flight response, and take control of their life.

NEW LOOK FOR THE SSANGYONG KORANDO CS & CSX COMMERCIAL

▲ The SsangYong Korando CSX

SSANGYONG is adding two new low priced light commercial models to its Korando range - the 2-wheel drive CS and 4-wheel drive CSX.

Ideal as a small delivery van, go-anywhere vehicle for service engineers or simply a light commercial to ensure you reach your destination whatever the weather or terrain, the Korando Commercial makes the perfect business partner.

And with prices from just £12,995 (ex VAT) for the two wheel drive CS model and a 5 year limitless mileage warranty, it is also a sound business decision.

SsangYong Korando CSX commercial The Giugiaro designed Korando is already noted for its great value, high level of equipment, interior space and 2 tonne towing capability - the Korando SE won

The Caravan Club Towcar of the Year Award 2014 for vehicles under £16,000 - and now its commercial derivative, the Commercial van, has also been given a makeover inside and out, as well as enhanced driving refinement.

Externally, the front receives an all-new treatment that includes a slimmed down, black mesh radiator grille, contemporary projection headlights and LED daytime running lights, while the interior has also been given a significant re-design that includes a completely new dashboard. Great advances in reducing NVH (noise, vibration & harshness) have also been made.

The new Korando Commercial is powered by a modern yet well-proven 2.0-litre Euro 5 turbo diesel engine. There is a choice of two wheel drive or 4x4, with prices from just £12,995 (ex VAT) for the two wheel drive CS and £14,295 (ex VAT) for the four wheel drive CSX.

The completely flat load area is accessed via a high lifting tailgate or two side doors, and packs a useful 1,312 cubic litre load volume. There's a load deck length of 152.5cm, and 96.5cm between the wheel arches. The car also carries a very practical 433 kg payload, and willingly pulls a 2 tonne trailer.

Under the bonnet, the Korando CS is powered by a new lower CO2 version of the Korando power unit. Developing 149ps@4,000rpm, this advanced 2.0 litre four cylinder turbo diesel engine produces 360Nm of torque with CO2 emissions reduced to 147g/km (CS) and 157g/km (CSX).

And for when the weather turns nasty and the going gets tough, the new CSX features an impressive Torque on Demand 4x4 system and is equipped with ESP with Hill Start Assist, and mud & snow tyres as standard.

The low price doesn't mean basic though, and drivers will enjoy the luxury touches of electric windows and tinted glass as well as a leather covered steering wheel and gear shift, cruise control and an MP3 CD & RDS radio with iPod & Bluetooth connectivity, remote audio controls and six speakers.

"The new Korando is the third light commercial vehicle (LCV) to join the SsangYong line-up, and offers a highly practical and affordable vehicle for those with specific business needs," said Paul Williams, CEO of SsangYong Motor UK. "Highly competitively priced, extremely well equipped and backed by a 5 year limitless mileage warranty, SsangYong is the only manufacturer to have that much confidence in its commercial vehicles to give its customers this level of reassurance."

"SsangYong has a growing reputation for producing extremely competent off-road vehicles, and the new Korando Commercial builds on this pedigree. It's an honest, reliable and highly capable LCV, and pound for pound will outclass many more expensive rivals."

The Korando CSX features a Torque on Demand four wheel drive system which constantly monitors the level of grip available and distributes power to the wheels that need it most. Under normal driving conditions the engine's torque is directed to the front wheels so the car runs with the efficiency of a family hatchback. However, if the front tyres begin to lose traction, power is automatically fed to the rear wheels to ensure safe, stable and dependable progress is maintained with grip from all four wheels. An all-wheel drive lock mode is also provided to ensure a 50/50 spread of torque between the front and rear wheels at speeds up to 25mph, essential for when low speed traction and control is needed such as when driving up a slippery track or off a muddy building site towing a work trailer.

All models in the SsangYong range are covered by a best-in-class 5 year limitless mileage warranty. Designed to be totally transparent and give customers complete peace of mind, 'limitless' means just that: not a maximum mileage condition that some brands impose in their small print. All the major mechanical components are covered including wheel bearings, suspension joints and bushes, steering joints, shock absorbers and even the audio system. Wearable components such as clutch discs and brake friction materials which could have their life reduced by poor driving are covered for one year or 12,000 miles, and the battery and paintwork for three years.

SsangYong cars are manufactured in South Korea by SsangYong Motor, which is 73 per cent owned by the Indian engineering conglomerate Mahindra & Mahindra, and imported into the UK by SsangYong Motor UK. Established in 1954 it is Korea's oldest vehicle manufacturer and only 4x4 and SUV specialist producer.

There are currently some 60 SsangYong dealers covering England, Northern Ireland, Scotland and Wales, with new locations being added to the network all the time.

- Korando CS & CSX - 2 & 4 wheel drive, from £12,995 ex VAT
- Korando Sports pick up - 4 wheel drive, from £15,042 ex VAT
- Rexton W CSX - 4 wheel drive, from £18,495 ex VAT

Students give Vikings harsh lesson

Millwey Rise back on top spot - Honiton Town hit magnificent seven

SOUTH-WEST PENINSULA LEAGUE

DIVISION ONE (EAST)

SIDMOUTH TOWN 0 EXETER UNI 5
SIDMOUTH welcomed the students of Exeter University to Manstone Lane and the visitors excellent recent run of form looked likely to continue as the 10th minute.

The Students' Pete Beadle netted with a free-kick following a rash challenge by Andrew Thompson. The visitors continued to dominate the half as the Vikings struggled to deal with the superior fitness and movement from a well-drilled side.

They doubled their lead in the 35th minute through Toby Yates who finished off an excellent team move.

Sidmouth's Josh French missed a good chance in the 55th minute with an unchallenged header that he nodded wide.

This proved to be a critical let off for the visitors as minutes later they were awarded a penalty after Aaron Doble struck a player off the ball and was rightly shown the red card. Josh Higgins made no mistake with his spot-kick.

On the 70th minute Sidmouth were reduced to nine players when a tangle of legs between Wes Tarr and Beadle was deemed to be a professional foul by the referee and Tarr received his marching orders.

For the remainder of the game it was damage limitation for Sidmouth as the students rain riot. Beadle scored his second and Cain Christoferou scored the fifth and final goal in the 87th minute.

VIKINGS: Ledger, Colson, Tarr, Newbery, Cox, Pavey, Doble, French (C), Thompson, Dobson, Small. Used Subs: Miller, Pidgeon, Crosby.

AXMINSTER TOWN 1 AFC BRIXHAM 2
MIDFIELDER Alex Wheatley's fourth goal of the season couldn't save Axminster Town from slipping to their fourth defeat in five matches.

The visitors led 1-0 at the break and doubled their lead after the turnaround before Wheatley struck midway through the half.

The Tigers, who were well served by keeper Brett Garner between the sticks, felt they were worth a something from the game played at Feniton's Acland Park.

TEAMS: TEAM: B.Garner, L.Cleer, M.Smale, G.Macauley, M.Knight, B.Vine, A.Wheatley, B.Turner, B.Miller, C.Garrett, E.Bastin. Sub: P.Knox, Unused: M.Hewer, K.Wellman.

D&E LEAGUE REPORTS

TIVERTON TOWN RES 5 BEER ALBION 0
BEER suffered a heavy defeat at the hands of league leaders Tiverton Reserves on Saturday.

Tivvy controlled the game from start to finish with Beer's best effort coming in the opening minutes when Chris Long's clever chip left the home keeper stranded but was cleared off the line by a defender.

Goals came at regular intervals and Tiverton went in 2-0 up at half-time.

Ex-Albion winger, Adam Wakely scored Tivvy's third, the best of the match, and two further goals sealed Beer's fate.

For the Fisherman centre-backs Richard Walker and Kieran Love played well in the face of the onslaught.

AXMOUTH UTD 2 AXMINSTER RES 3

IN an entertaining local-derby played in both a feisty, but good spirited manner the watching crowd were treated to a cracking Saturday afternoon's spectacle.

Axminster started well but Axmouth soon began to have greater possession and created some good chances but failed to take advantage due to a combination of poor finishing, the wood work and last ditch defending.

As is often the case when not capitalizing on chances the hosts were then hit twice on the counter attack with Adam Cowling scoring twice before half-time.

It was 3-0 soon after the re start as Ben Williams netted with a fine header.

Despite shipping three goals the home side continued to lay siege to the Axminster goal and the turning point came when Axminster's Mike Ruso was shown a red card for kicking out with just over 20 minutes left.

A quick reshuffle and Axmouth finally made the breakthrough when Asa Sandman fired home to make it 3-1 which quickly became 3-2 as Sandman provided another fine finish.

As Axmouth battered the visitors the woodwork came to the visitors aid but they held on to the final whistle.

WOODBURY 2NDS 4 BEER ALB 2NDS 3

AFTER holding runaway league leaders Ottery St Mary last week, the Fishermen came down to earth with a bump with a disappointing performance despite fielding probably their strongest line-up of the season.

Woodbury were a goal up at half-time up after poor marking at a corner. After the break, things got worse for Beer who were soon 3-0 down through further defensive lapses.

Only then did they wake up and pulled the game back to 3-2 through an own goal from a Neale cross and a Simon Smith header from Andrew Foster's cross.

However, Woodbury restored their two goal cushion but Beer finished strongly and made it 4-3 through a Tom Neale penalty but could not force the equaliser.

ALPHINGTON 4 OFFWELL RANGERS 5

A POOR performance saw Offwell Rangers squeeze home by the odd goal in nine.

Brad Spiller put the Rangers ahead only for the hosts to strike back to lead 3-2 at the interval with Dane Spiller also on the scoresheet.

Alphington scored again which prompted a triple substitution and change in formation for the visitors.

And this had the desired effect as Craig Sluman, Ernie Stobbs and Ash Trudgeon - an 85th minute winner - scored the goals which completed a gutsy turnaround after player-manager Scott Phillips had 'rattled a few cages at half-time'.

Round-up with Collin Goodwin

UP in the Premier Division Second placed HEAVITREE UNITED pipped the UNIVERSITY 1-0 with Kenny Smith getting the only goal, and they remain nine points ahead of FENITON who defeated BOW AAC 2-0 thanks to an early Charlie Selley penalty and Ben Ede.

HATHERLEIGH TOWN stay unbeaten after conquering ELMORE 3-1. Hatherleigh goals came from Ryan Davies, Greg Mitchell and Jake Rowe.

The Eagles' defeat saw SIDBURY UNITED climb into the top five following a 3-0 win at BUDLEIGH SALTERTON. Two goal Dan Green and Jamie Bayliss scored for Sidbury.

WILLAND ROVERS enjoyed a 6-1 win despite falling behind to an early Seth Wakeley goal against SEATON TOWN.

HONITON TOWN seem to be running away with Division Two following their 7-0 victory against HEAVITREE UNITED with goals from Joe Mulhall (2), Darren Witt, Matt Brown, Lewis Couch, Chris Long and Brett Sellick.

Mark Hobbs headed in a superb goal for LYMPSTONE as they won a scintillating game at ALPHINGTON 1-0.

The UNIVERSITY knocked Division 2 leaders COLYTON off their perch with a 4-2 win against their title rivals. Darren Ofoe, Luke Jewers, Luke Taylor and Matt Barker shared the Uni goals.

NEWTOWN were disappointed by a 3-0 defeat at CULLOMPTON RANGERS, as most of their rivals won, especially UPTOTTERY who triumphed 6-1 at Tipton St John.

Third Division leaders EXMOUTH TOWN were held to a 3-3 draw by THORVERTON, which was a boost for LYME REGIS who flattened TEDBURN ST MARY 9-1 with goals from Joe Bond (3), Mark Bailey (2), Ben Whittington, Dec Ellis, Sam Jones and Julien Simier.

Third placed WOODBURY were also in the goals winning 6-1 at PINHOE.

HENRY'S CRONIES stay in hot pursuit of the top teams after their 3-0 win against CHERITON FITZPAINE.

Division Five leaders SAMPFORD PEVERELL were beaten 2-1 by HATHERLEIGH TOWN, so SANDFORD go top although they only managed a 2-2 draw with HONITON TOWN. Louis Grant and Kieran Conway scored for the Lacemen.

FENITON were left floored by a 6-0 drubbing at FLUXTON, so UPLWMAN leap into third place after their 4-1 dismissal of HALWILL. Rob Hanna 2, Ricky Lee and Brian Redwood scored for Uplowman.

OTTERTON won 2-1 against PRIORY with Dink Thomas again on target.

Division Six pacemakers OTTERY ST MARY were back to winning way in style as they derailed the RAILWAY CLUB 6-0.

◆ BEACON KNIGHTS have withdrawn from Division One after a decade of membership.

golf round-up

Ron Miller remembered

AXE CLIFF with Helen Kenworthy

IN the latest round of the Senior Winter League it was obvious that last year's champions are not going to relinquish easily their hold on the trophy.

With conditions for the majority of the round not conducive to good golf Alan Vincent & Gilbert Cox recorded a satisfying score of 32 points to maintain their hopes of retaining their shield.

Beaten into second place were Terry Jessup & Sid Pember on the count back whilst possible contenders Tony Strong & Dave Sammons had to be content with 30 points and third place.

For the rest this was a round to forget as the competition is set up to allow teams to drop two of their lowest scoring rounds.

It must be a great feeling to have a competition named in your honour when you have devoted so much time to the club and game you love so much.

Such a trophy is played annually by seniors for the Ron Miller Claret Jug and it was all the more poignant this week when the competition took place as Ron had recently passed away.

He would have been impressed with the competitive way in which the pairs attacked the course with the final places being decided by the closest of margins.

Third place went to Iain Bain & Malcolm Glass with 59 points but they had to be separated from two other pairings on the count back. Second spot went to Tony Strong & Peter Knighting, the winners with 62 points were Rob Heard & Bill Polley.

RIP Ron and thanks for the memories.

On November 23rd the Men played Round three of their Winter League with the format being better ball stableford. Result; 1st Jin Hong & Rob Nichols 44pts, 2nd (on the back nine) Paul Clode & Simon Sweetland 40 and 3rd Steve Anning & Richard Gibbons 40.

On November 26th The Ladies played the 1st Round of the Winter League, result; 1st Pauline Willis, 2nd Margaret Kenchington, 3rd Caroline Bond.

HONITON with Andy Wagner

SENIORS SECTION

THIS week's Stableford competition was the first round of the winter eclectic.

When collecting entry fees Peter Clarke advised players that too good a round left little room for improvement. Most players took that advice with "birdies" in short supply.

A few players set a marker however and in Division One Eric Short took first place with 37 points on count back from Alan Devenny with Alan taking the birdie count honours. Mike Stroud 35 points, Pat Purtell 34 and David Morgan 34 were the other prize winners.

In Division Two it was David Lavender who proved to be the master of the course with an outstanding 40 points, netting only one birdie in the process but this earned him a third share of the 39 balls in the ball prize competition. Unfortunately for David a handicap cut of three shots may have dented his future prospects in the eclectic league.

Brian Morrison took second place on count back from Clive Whithear both with 36 points followed by Seniors' Captain Bill Eaton 35 and Bill Phillips 34.

◆ AIRBORN: Goalscorer Alex Wheatley climbs highest in Axminster Town's 2-1 defeat against Brixham.

Unbeaten Otters go four clear

DIVISION ONE

FLAMINGOS defeated Tip Top Trees 45-23 to keep them in contention for the title but 3Ts did enough to earn a point from the fixture. With Sonia Yorke playing well Flamings led from the start and finish.

Hi Q and Upwoman had started the season with a draw, but with Sadie Moran playing well for Hi Q they just edged the game despite good play from Andrea Britton.

Otters continued with their unbeaten run when they defeated their rivals Flamings 34-25 in a close game.

Once again Yorke was the Flamings' star but the unbeaten Otters just proved too strong.

The biggest win of the night saw Upwoman retain second spot with their comfortable 43-11 victory over JD Tyres. Liz Hayward was the Upwoman star whilst Tif Munt stole the show for JD.

IN DIVISION TWO Signs South West retained their unbeaten start with victories over Sidmouth Toucans and Howden Hawks with Jodie Potter in great form in both games.

The game against Toucans was a close run thing with Louise Neilson playing well, but with SSW held on for a 36-31 win.

Hawks also did enough for a point but the 43-26 margin of victory for SSW was more comfortable.

A & P Pixies recorded a 25-22 victory over Black-

■ COUNTY HONOUR: Honiton Blaze U14 team from Honiton Netball Club were confirmed as runners up in the Exeter & District Junior Netball Winter League on Saturday. This means the team have qualified for the county tournament on Sunday, February 1st where they will be up against teams from across the county looking to qualify for the Regional South tournament in March.

down Ladies thanks to good play from Louise Larcombe while Louise Crabb played well for Blackdown. As a result they swapped places at the foot of the table.

The previous week Pixies had gone down to a heavy 37-11 defeat against Otter Valley, who held on to second spot as a result.

Lacey Dorliac had played well for A&P but the strong play of Rachel Tucker had seen the Otter Valley side to victory.

Rod Inglis won a trophy for coming 3rd in his age category coming 100th in 1:19:38 followed by Steve Davey 2 places and just 10 seconds later.

Julie Payne was first lady back for Honiton coming 2nd in her category and 124th overall in 1:22:21.

the race with not too much time to spare but he was delighted with his race coming 132nd in 1:23:09.

Bruce Strawbridge was next back coming 142nd in 1:23:49 followed directly by Mark Dallyn who finished four seconds behind. Judy Davey came 3rd in her age group finishing 154th in 1:24:46.

Howard Bidmead was pleased with his run coming 181st in 1:27:32.

youth football around-up

Extra time heartache for depleted Seaton U13s

MILLWEY Rise round-up

Under 8s Friendly; Millwey Rise 0-3 Axminster Tigers, Millwey Rise 0-1 Axminster Tigers.

Under 9s Exeter & District Youth League Cup; Twyford Gladiators 1-2 Millwey Rise (Noah Alsedani & Callum Clark). Twyford Gladiators 0-6 Millwey Rise (Jack Hembrow, Owen Dibling, Finlay Downes, Noah Alsedani, Louis Newcombe & Catherine Webb).

FRIENDLY

Under 12s East Devon Youth League; Seaton U11s 11-0 Millwey Rise

Under 13s Exeter & District Youth League (Division 2); Millwey Rise 3-7 Crediton Youth (Chris Watson & Charlie Bye 2).

Seaton U11 hosted Millwey U12 at Elizabeth Road.

Kyle Williams put Seaton ahead early on and Josh Tait headed the second on 10 minutes.

A heavy tackle led to a Seaton penalty, calmly converted by Jack White.

Tait made it 4-0 at the break before second half goals from Zak Hawkins (2), Gait (2) Lacey, Williams and an own goal sealed an outstanding team performance.

Match day awards were, supporters player, James Lacey and Coaches player, Jack Moore.

Seaton U9s were edged out 2-1 by St Martins.

The visitors went 2-0 up via a bizarre own goal. A Seaton defender, blinded by a low winter sun and undone by a rabbit divot, struck an attempted long-range back pass into the top corner!

However, it did little to dent Seaton's confidence and they laid siege to the St Martin's goal for much of the second half with Henry Matthews forcing the ball home from close range to set up a grandstand finish.

But it was one of those mornings and the equaliser they deserved never came.

Kieran Jaycock was superb in between the posts and gave an assured performance.

Seaton u13s made the trek down to Buckland on Sunday with the bare 11 to play the 3rd round of the county cup.

Reece McCabe broke away to put Seaton ahead but it wasn't long before Buckland equalised.

McCabe struck again but the hosts made it 2-2 at half-time.

In the second-half James Fenner pounced on a rebound after McCabe's shot had been saved to edge the Greens ahead.

Buckland then scored to square the game and then took the lead for the first time in the game.

With a couple of minutes left McCabe completed his hat trick to force extra-time.

The lack of fresh legs cost Seaton in the extra half hour as the hosts struck twice to win the game 6-4.
